CREATIVITY LIES IN THE DETAILS

Whilst style and performance are important, safety is obligatory, and the Murano is endowed with a comprehensive range of features for accident avoidance and protection. In an emergency, Vehicle Dynamic Control automatically controls braking and engine output to improve stability and handling, Traction Control limits wheel spin, and ABS and Electronic Brake-force Distribution provide optimal stopping power. And in the event of impact, the combination of front and rear crumple zones, front seatbelt pretensioners and front and side curtain airbags ensure all occupants have complete protection.

The world's great design houses are universally recognised for their ability to create iconic designs that blend form and function. Embodying this design philosophy, the Nissan Murano represents a beautiful example of pure automotive progress. Murano's elegant, yet athletic lines are complimented by sleek 18" alloy wheels and detailing like dual exhausts pays homage to the iconic design of its close relative, the Nissan 350Z.

Functionally, the Murano is without peer. Its innovative AWD system offers the fuel-efficiency of two-wheel drive but switches automatically to AWD when needed for optimal control. It can also be locked into AWD at the push of a button. This all road capability, combined with a high performance power plant, silky smooth transmission, a versatile interior for passengers or cargo and luxurious appointments, makes the Murano a totally new breed of car.

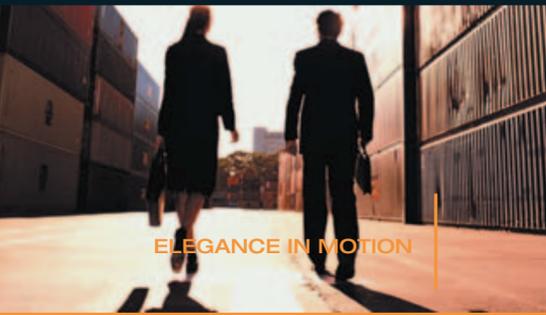

The detailing and technological appointments in Murano's interior ensure your journey will be as enjoyable as the destination. Driver-oriented design features include a power adjustable seat, multi-function drive computer, steering-wheel-mounted audio and cruise controls, a sleek 3-bay instrument cluster, heated leather front seats* and rear parking sensors*. All occupants will appreciate the 225 Watt, 6 speaker digital Bose audio system, electric sunroof* and climate control with rear passenger vents. Murano's storage systems include centre console spaces for mobile phones, sunglasses, coins and cups, a two-tiered lockable area for a handbag or laptop (with 12v power outlet), extra deep door pockets and under floor storage in the cargo area.

TECHNICAL REFINEMENT

To satisfy the chameleonic requirements of the Murano, Nissan's designers gave it the VQ 3.5 litre V6 engine. A variant of the engine powering the Nissan 350Z, the high strength to weight ratio componentry and race bred engineering of this power plant means it will deliver high performance for longer. The engine is coupled to an Xtronic Continuously Variable Transmission (CVT) which continuously varies gear ratios, eliminating the shift shock of traditional auto-transmissions for silky smooth acceleration. It also keeps engine operation in the most efficient range for better fuel economy. CVT is ideal for any driving conditions, but if you prefer do-it-yourself, switch to the 6-speed Manual Mode (M-Mode).

MURANO

The All New Nissan Murano

a new breed of car... The hallmark of inspired creativity is the ability to assimilate apparently unrelated or contradictory elements into a union making it hard to imagine how they ever existed separately. In creating the elegant new Nissan Murano, seamlessly blending the freedom and versatility of a four wheel drive with the ride, handling and performance of a sports sedan, the designers at Nissan have done just that.
